MEMORANDUM FOR: Director, Intelligence Community Staff

FROM : R. M. Huffstutler
Director, National Photographic Interpretation Center

SUBJECT : NPIC Visit

al

1. In the interest of providing senior community managers an update on current activities and new developments in the imagery intelligence field, I urge you and members of your staff to visit NPIC for an overview of our operation and facility. The program will walk you through the imagery exploitation process from receipt of new imagery to dissemination of the intelligence product. Areas covered will include imagery analysis, soft-copy imagery enhancement, imagery-derived mensuration, photographic reproduction, and report production and dissemination. Other imagery-related operations such as computer modeling and three-dimensional model construction also will be examined. In addition to witnessing the routine practices of an imagery analyst, you will be able to observe, first hand, the use of some of our technical equipment and have the opportunity operate some of it in functional simulations.

2. The entire program, which takes about three hours, will provide you with a comprehensive picture of the imagery intelligence production process. My secretary will make all necessary arrangements for such a visit at a time of your convenience. She will be in contact with your secretary in the next few days, or she can be reached on [REDACTED]
